

Compiling a music disc

This workshop will teach you how to make a music CD from a list of stored music tracks. The software used in the workshop is Roxio Media Creator and may not be the same as you are using or intend to use. The principles however remain the same.